

Our local phone company does not have the network nodes, or switching centers that can widely distribute broadband computer connections to locations other than around downtown Yakima. This capability should be more widely distributed by making our local telephone company more responsive to community needs.